PART 2B

Chartered Financial Analyst® Designation

The CFA® Institute confers the CFA® credential and it is a globally recognized investment management designation. The CFA® Program is divided into three level of exams and covers the following topics: ethical and professional standards, quantitative methods, economics, financial reporting and analysis, corporate finance, equity investments, fixed-income investments, derivatives, alternative investments, and portfolio management and wealth planning. Specifically, Level I consists of basic knowledge and comprehension questions focused on investment tools. Level II tests more complex analysis with a focus on valuing assets. Level III requires combining all the concepts and analytical methods in a variety of applications for effective portfolio management and wealth planning.

The CFA® charter takes about four years to earn and demonstrates that the charterholder has the knowledge, skills and experience needed to conduct investment analysis and management.

Additional information about this designation is available at www.cfainstitute.org.
